Foreword

The season of 1945 produced without exception the finest quality of blooms of any year that I can recall in my 16 years of growing Gladiolus. This is borne out by the quality seen in all Eastern shows, as well as in the maze of color in our own 35 acres. Even stock grown from bulblets bloomed freely and with no damaging freezes until about November 1st, and have a crop of very fine well-developed bulbs.

On the other hand the season has been extremely hard and discouraging. The very difficult winter of '44-'45 was followed by a cold, wet spring which delayed all early cut flower plantings, and the early and mid-season plantings bloomed together, resulting in a sudden slump in the cut flower market. However, the late plantings made up for the loss with several reports from growers in this area of fancy Glads reaching a high of from $3.50 to $5.00 per dozen.

The bulb buying and selling season is again in full swing. Orders have been pouring in since early fall and some in very large quantities. A great deal of business is now arriving from across the water from the foreign countries, which is naturally going to reduce a sizable percentage of available bulbs for home plantings. Again the supply of available bulbs is far short of the demand and many late purchasers will be disappointed.

We sincerely appreciate the many fine orders our customers entrusted to us this past season.

Early Orders

Many people like to order in the Fall, and many more than ever before now want to order because of the bulb shortage. Naturally we like early orders, but oftentimes we have to refuse certain items and quantities, as we have nothing but a field estimate to go by. For instance, our field estimate may call for 5,000 No. 1, 6,000 No. 2, and so on, in some certain variety. When our inventory of orders shows these figures as sold, we have to refuse further orders, at least until stock is cleaned and graded.

On the field inventory we have to be conservative as we never know just how sizes will run. You see there are many problems confronting us on exceptionally early orders, as we certainly dislike writing possibly two months later and saying we are unable to supply this or that. Remember, if we accept your order you are fairly certain of getting it, but if we refuse it early in the Fall we might have it later in the Winter when we have a complete check of stock. All orders will be filled in order received.

Early Shipments

We are seldom in a position to start shipping before the latter part of November at the earliest. Southern growers and gardeners need their bulbs early, and we try to accommodate them, but everyone who is in real need of his shipment will be taken care of, if possible. But PLEASE be reasonable; if you don't need them, give us a little time.

Terms and Discounts

We sell 5 bulbs at the 10 rate. We do not sell less than the smallest quoted unit. For instance, if a variety is listed 2 bulbs for $.20, we will not sell one bulb for $.10, as the clerical work, filling and packing orders is too expensive. On orders of $3.00 to $10.00 you may add 5% of the total in extra bulbs and 10% on orders from $10.00 and up. Please make your own selection. These discounts do not apply to assortments, collections, to items marked "No Discount" or to orders from the quantity price list. We make it our business to include some extras for trial in proportion to the size of your order. All retail orders are shipped prepaid by parcel post or express.

Quality and Guarantee

Quality and better quality has always been our aim. Our bulbs are hand-cleaned even to No. 6 size in 95% of our crop. We believe there is a better chance of eliminating any diseased bulb on the cleaning table than anywhere else. Handling is with the utmost care and bulbs are stored in galvanized screen bottom trays and in new frost proof warehouses with proper ventilation. We pride ourselves in the grade we give.

If for any reason our bulbs are not satisfactory when received, or even after blooming, we will be only too glad to make adjustment. We admit we are not perfect, but we want to treat our customers right as we feel any successful business is founded on these principles.

Transportation

All retail orders are sent by Prepaid Parcel Post. All orders from the quantity or wholesale list will be shipped by Express Collect, unless otherwise instructed.

During the Winter months express is much safer, as it is guaranteed against frost. We can arrange for shipment by truck on large orders in some cases.

Varieties

Our listed varieties will number around 150. You will find that these are among the best on the market. No one grower can grow them all as there are many thousand named varieties. Each year we test out many new ones, including many dozens of seedlings that are sent to us to try out. In other words, we try to keep up to date and I'm sure you will find that the varieties we carry in this catalogue will be of the best.

Stressing Commercial Varieties

In the many years of our experience growing Glads we have kept in mind that a variety with commercial qualities is far more profitable to grow than those limited to garden and show purpose. For the past three years we have given a page in our catalogue, commenting on varieties best suited for the cut flower purpose. This list of varieties may change from year to year and new ones appear. It has been our policy to grow a variety, two and in most cases three years before naming it in this list, as one year's trial just does not tell the story.

Again I am placing Pink Radiance at the head of the list in the pink class. I still think I can cut more heavy long spikes by far from a given number of bulbs than I can from Picardy. It's got every quality Picardy has, except it is not so fast a propagator, and that along with the exceptionally heavy demand is keeping the price up. Bulblets germinate very well and often throw nice long spikes under average field culture. Picardy is still in very heavy demand and probably always will be. Corona, now definitely placed in the pink class, seems to be moving up in popularity and has most all good points as a commercial except color, to my way of thinking. It's different; I guess that is the reason the public accepts it. King William is a very pleasing color and bids well as a home commercial. A little light for long distance shipping. Big Top has commercial possibilities in spite of its size. For those florists who can't get them big enough, grow some Big Top. Glamis looks good, but wish the florets were a little better attached. Connecticut Yankee is beautiful and a nice grower, although it propagates rather slowly. Should make a favorite as a home cutter. Ethel Cave Cole is a good early light pink and in heavy demand. Rosa Van Lima still holds its own.

The white class seems to have plenty of competition, with Leading Lady far ahead. I believe this will definitely be as popular as Picardy. Silver Wings may be better, but I am not ready to admit it in this column. Snow Princess is coming to the top as a long distance shipper and will probably replace Maid of Orleans. Margaret Beaton is very popular and has many good qualities, but I personally prefer Silentium. The latter is a 100% cutter with beautiful placement, although small bulbs do not produce a heavy stem. Margaret Beaton invariably has a misplaced bottom floret and often times comes stubby, but is a good shipper and a fine bulb grower. Surfside is a 100% cutter of heavy spikes, and Casablanca looks like a nice commercial. It's very tall with nice placement, but haven't had an opportunity to ship any as yet.

The cream class also has plenty of competition, with Wanda, the Picardy sport, very popular. Can't help mentioning Lady Jane, but it is stubby some seasons for us. Intermezzo, the sister seedling of Pink Radiance, is a fine cutter and believe it will be liked. Veecream is a very attractive home florist flower, but doubt if it will be a shipper.

I like Miss Wisconsin as a deep rose, but it is still a little high in price. Not too fast a propagator. Elizabeth The Queen, in spite of its being short in the stem, is fancy in anybody's planting, and is definitely my first choice. Badger Beauty is good as a light lavender and is due to be grown in quantity. In the deeper shade Lavender Prince is very fancy and much better than old King Arthur as a cut flower. This will be in heavy demand when stock is available.

The purple class has a new one of marked improvement in Purple Supreme. As a grower this was as nearly perfect this past summer as any Glad in our trials. Dickens is now due for discard. It is quite late, however, and one should have an earlier variety. Mrs. Marks Memory fills the early bill with its rose purple shade, but only have stock of this to sell at retail.

We have tried out many yellows, but as an all-around performer the first place still falls to Mother Kadel. It has a cleanness of color that not many yellows have. It's a good propagator and bulb maker, along with being the best yellow shipper we have grown. If Oregon Gold were only a little earlier it would be outstanding, as it has size, ruggedness, and many other good qualities. It is quite likely I will substitute Early Gold (Butt) for Van Gold. Both are very deep in color and very early, but Early Gold will out-do Van Gold by 10 days and makes a much heavier spike and about as large a floret. It's my first year growing it, but I am convinced already. Stock is scarce.

Where one can obtain stock, Valeria is probably the best red on the market for shipping. Florida growers want this in immense quantities, but the bulblets do not germinate well, and stock will always be hard to get. Stoplight is my next choice, with Red Charm, Hawkeye Red, and King Click all bidding for a box seat. Which ever one you buy, you are sure to get a good one. If you have a market for a real dark red, Mohawk is fine, with Midnight Red being very early and a real nice cutter.

New Varieties of Promise

With one and not more than two years' trial, we have ear-marked the following varieties for the purpose of increasing our plantings. Every one has outstanding qualities that should make them valuable as cut flower varieties. All may have one or more faults, but what variety hasn't. However, we will continue to increase these until further faults show up.

Ogarita certainly stood out for size, vigor and general good appearances. After making some careful checks on Pink Picardy (Earl-Graff), believe I much prefer it to Picardy itself. Color is much deeper, and in our trial garden didn't see one crooked spike. However, it didn't seem to have quite the stretch as that of Picardy. I like Cover Girl very much, with its very deep rich pink and stretchy flower heads. I have grown Marguerite for three years, but have withheld comment due to its short stem, but flower heads are exceptionally long. It seems from reports that this variety performs better in other sections, especially Florida, where the demand is getting strong. It's apparently a good shipper.

Some of you are always looking for early ones. Well, Anna Mae is just that and a snow-white, too. Silver Wings will be in the running as a first place all-around white in the future. Nothing new to mention in the red class except Red Penny, which is also a first early. It has the right color and other good qualities, and should be a very valuable one for you early growers. Spotlight is outstanding as a new yellow.

I have been looking for some good rose color commercials and find Chamouny a beautiful color, but Rose O'Day is a more consistent spiker. Both are good propagators and no doubt will be valuable. Rosy Red bloomed real early and looks like something good. Marimba is certainly nice, and if you can use this buff color buy it by all means. The orange class has been extremely poor when it comes to a good cutter, and I feel we have been fortunate in being privileged to co-introduce Gratitude which is definitely an improved Barcarole in color. There is really no need of mentioning the blues in this column, but will say that both Porcelain Blue and Blue Ice have some qualities of marked improvement over the old standards. Porcelain's very large, wide open florets, with a light throat, are outstanding. Blue Ice is also very large and the most beautiful ruffled light blue I have seen.

Please remember that every variety in existence has plenty of faults and there are none perfect. I have tried to be sincere and frank in my statements regardless of whether I have stock available or not, and if I haven't the bulbs to supply your order no doubt someone else will have.

Aglow (Ridley-Moses)

This seedling has been shown by Mr. Ridley for the past three years and has won "Honorable Mention," 1943; "Commendation Award," 1944; and the "Award of Merit" at the Empire State Regional Show, 1945, without hesitation. I am introducing this purely as a commercial, although in its color class it will win on the show table, because of its straightness and perfect placement. After a very severe storm that flattened almost all of Mr. Ridley's garden this past summer, Aglow stood up straight as a church steeple.

Color is salmon buff, shading to deeper salmon on outer petals, with reddish salmon feather on lower petals. Color is improved and is very attractive under artificial light. Will open six 3½-in. wide open florets, with somewhat recurved petals on a tall slender spike, with placement and straightness being exceptionally good. Heavy propagator and bulblets grow strong.

Any size bulb, $1.00 ea.; 6 for $5.00; 15 bulblets for $1.00. No discount.

In order to encourage cut flower producers to give this variety a good try-out, we are offering the following grower lots:

Gratitude (Fischer)

Amrita x Arethusa. We are very proud to help introduce this new seedling which we had the privilege of growing in our test garden this past summer. This is definitely a real improvement in the orange class, and Mr. Fischer considers it one of his best originations.

Originator's Description: Gratitude may well be described as a greatly improved Barcarole, resembling it mostly in color, being practically the same hue. Gratitude is heavy substantanced, fancily ruffled and very tall, comparing with the famed King Lear for stretchiness of spike. It is a salmon-orange with a sharp yellow throat. Opens 5 to 7 5½-in. florets on a tall strong wire-like stem and blooms as well from small bulbs as some varieties do from large. Placement is not always perfect. Growing habits are gratifying. A high order of beauty and a delightful basket flower. Early midseason.

This seedling was voted one of the best of four seedlings out of 59 submitted to the Interstate Gladiolus Growers Club (a newly-organized trial garden system). Seedlings were submitted from 13 originators from five states.

Prices: $2.00 ea., any size bulb; 12 for $20.00. No discount.

Wax Model (Krueger)

Rated by Mr. Krueger as definitely one of his best originations and of typical cut flower type. A glistening white (more white than Maid of Orleans) with the immaculate small, clear lavender throat spears. The semi-recurved petals give both the individual florets and the whole spike a distinctive appearance. The florets have a secure attachment.

Wax model grows tall plants, blooms early and the spikes never crook. Opens five to six florets of 5-in. size at a time. The flowerhead is about 22 inches in length and carries seventeen buds. Produces a good number of bulblets that germinate well.

Bulbs, large, $6.00 ea.; medium, $5.00 ea.; small, $4.00 ea. No bulblets. No discount.

Three New Ones from LaSalle-Arenius

We have been privileged to help introduce three new outstanding varieties from probably the largest seedling garden in the States, that of Mr. Jim LaSalle. He grows three acres of solid seedlings, and it is quite logical that he has many outstanding varieties. As yet it hasn't been our pleasure to grow the three LaSalle originations, but have been so highly recommended that we are placing a lot of confidence in them and Mr. Arenius' judgment.

Topflite

Considered by both the originator and introducer to be about the finest color they have ever seen in a Glad. Its other qualities are equally good, except that the stock is very small. A rosy pink, self color, fairly deep, but not washed out.

Opens eight 5-in. florets on a wiry stem 55-in. tall. Double-row placement, mid-season and a medium propagator.

Bulbs, any size, $10.00 ea. No bulb-lets. No discount.

Fabulous

A deep pink with a double half-circle blotch—different. The inner blotch is a bright cherry-red, separated from the pink by a light cream half-moon. Opens six 5-in. florets on a strong stem 60 inches tall. It has a double-row placement, a mid-season bloomer, and good propagator, straight grower and a very fine cutter. It's entirely different and you will like it.

Bulbs, any size, $5.00 ea. No bulblets. No Discount.

Pink Charm

A pink which Mr. LaSalle aptly calls his "waxy pink." This variety will go places as it is early and a very good propagator. A solid medium deep pink with a decided waxy appearance. Color darkens very deep in the throat. Opens six 5½-in. florets on a 50-in. spike and never crooks. It is also a double-row placement. This has the qualifications for a good commercial.

Bulbs, any size, $5.00 ea. No bulblets. No Discount.

Peggy (West-Arenius)

Peggy is a seedling from Roy West, named in memory of his wife who for years had been growing seedlings. Most everyone is looking for the good cut flower lavender to take the place of old Minuet which is now nearly impossible to buy, due to its slow propagation. This is a light lavender of just the right shade. Blooms are not large, about 4-in., but clear and never flecks. Grows to 60-in. tall, opens six with double-row placement. Early mid-season, and a good propagator.

Bulbs, any size, $5.00 ea. No bulblets. No Discount.

Cultural Directions

This year we will send with each order complete cultural directions and the latest information on treating bulbs and spraying for thrip.

An Invitation

This invitation is out real early, but we mean it. On September 7, 1946, the Empire State Regional Show will be held in Lima for the fourth consecutive year. It's always been a whale of a success, and we are planning for even a larger show this year. Our seedling class usually averages from 100 up, with the best originators in this part of the country showing. Don't only come to the show, but bring some Glads. Air Express shipments made to Rochester, N. Y., will be met and taken care of. Make regular Express Shipments to Rochester Junction.

At the same time you attend the Show, plan to visit our fields and show gardens. See how bulbs are produced and handled in quantities. Make your plans now. We will be glad to make reservations here in town for you.

Join the Empire State Gladiolus Society

Membership costs you only One Dollar ($1.00). You receive 8 bulletins a year with news of Gladiolus hobby cultural hints, treating and spraying problems, show reports, etc.

For another $1.50, affiliate with the New England Gladiolus Society, largest in the world, and receive the benefits of both organizations. New England publishes a Year Book and six Gladiolus Magazine issues, all included in your membership.

If you will sign the enclosed blank and mail with your check to me, I'll be glad to take care of it for you. In appreciation for a $1.00 membership. I'll include in your order 1 large bulb of Elizabeth the Queen, or for an affiliate membership 1 large bulb of Purple Supreme.

Beginners

If you have never grown Glads and don't know one variety from another, let us help you. We will put up a collection of 25 varieties, 3 large bulbs of each, for $2.95; 10 large bulbs of each for an even $8.00. These will not be labeled but we will label them for $.25 more.
